ENGLISH TEACHING ACTIVITIES

This year, a second foreign teacher has been added to Qing Pu Elementary School. Every first and second grade student now has a chance to chat and learn with a native English speaker.

During first grade classes, a lot of time is being devoted to activities. Students have already learned how to play several vocabulary learning card games. They are also learning English by singing.

Second grade students are going a step further with the help of newly installed monitors in their homerooms. This reading activity follows the chronology of a story by putting clues from their book into a maze they can interact with on the big screen.

The foreign teachers are currently teaching classes related to the Life Curriculum normally done in Mandarin as well as a new class called International Education where they explore the world through the study of colors and shapes.
